

Frightful Case Of a Colored Man.

control the "ferrial" cause of blood poison In 1909, I was treated by some of the best physicians in Atlanta. They used the old remedies of Mercury and Potassium iodide brought on the most terrible and impaling swelling of the joints. Every joint in me was swollen and full of pain. I was in a horrible condition. When I had been given up to die, my physician, Dr. J. C. Switt, told me that he had a medicine in other cases, thought it would be speedier time to test the virtues of Switt's oil. When I commenced taking 3 or 4, the pain was so great that I could not walk. He gave me the ordinary treatment. He commenced to give me the medicine strictly according to directions, which I continued for several months. I could not walk. I was unable to improve from the use. Occasionally I would have a backset from impudence. Soon the rheumatism left me, my appetite became all right, and I was able to walk. I was the most faithful he had ever seen, began to heal, and by the first of October, 1909, I was a well man again. I am stronger now than I have been for years.
I have never failed to report for a day since that time, being engaged in the oil-warehouse of Chesapeake Company. I have been and still am, doing some of the heaviest work in the city. I did, and am ready to answer any question that may be asked concerning this case. Switt's Specific has saved me from an early grave.

Lern McClenahan has been in the employ of the Chess-Carley Company for some years, and I know the above statements to be true at the time he was taking Swift's S. Specific was in a very poor condition, and at my suggestion his treatment with S. S. S. was undertaken by a physician after several days had declared his case to be very loosely chronic, and it being but S. S. S., and as he was so badly off, one dollar for several months. I gave him six or almost a hundred.

Consumers should not confuse our specific which are often sold not on their own merit, but on the merit of our remedy. An imitation is always a fraud and a cheat, and they thereby lose by the fraud from the article imitated.

The Department of Justice ought to look carefully after the conduct of its subordinates in Utah. Of course everybody expects the Attorney-General to see to it that the laws enacted by Congress for the punishment of polygamy and unlawful cohabitation are enforced. But it is becoming apparent that the officials in Utah are intent principally upon swelling their fees. In the first place the district attorney directs warrants of arrest to issue on information and belief. This "information and belief" is supplied by a swarm of detectives employed by the United States marshal as deputies. The district attorney and the marshal get their fees for the issuance of the warrants and the arrests in each case. Then the accused are taken before a United States commissioner and the district attorney and marshal get their fees for attendance, and the commissioner gets his fees also. If there is a hearing there are fees again for witnesses and for the marshal and district attorney. If there is a commitment or holding to bail, as there is in every instance, no matter what the evidence may be, still more fees. Then comes the grand jury. Here there are fees for subpoenaing witnesses and attendance. The fact is that the federal judicial officers in Utah have a bonanza in these so-called polygamy prosecutions, and the present incumbents, Republicans and Democrats, are working the business for all it is worth.

The preliminary arrests and examinations are uncalled for and are for the sole purpose of making fees for the district attorney, marshal, and commissioner. The present administration came in on the idea of retrenchment of the government. It is evident that it ought to begin at once in Utah. Why doesn't the President remove the Republican from Utah as he has done in other territories? Is a Republican heard every day. Can't Democrats be trusted to enforce the law there as well as elsewhere? The truth seems to be that the administration is timid on the "Mormon" subject. The Commissioners under the demands act are retained in office, notwithstanding the Supreme Court recently decided that they had grossly exceeded their powers. These men are the cause of the trouble of them, so that $25,000 a year is squandered because, as has been demonstrated the present incumbents cannot accomplish any good whatever.—S. B. Van Watkins, N.Y., Democratic Herald.
